

The (r)evolution of toxicological models

How to address safety in target species

The Online NVT Annual Meeting will take place on June 9 and 10, 2021

During the upcoming online NVT Annual Meeting, we will talk about safety assessment and toxicity testing in target species and discuss the challenges that we face in applying alternative models into (regulatory) practice. What are the best models for the target species of interest? Can we measure within the target species itself? When do we have sufficient information to predict safety in target species? How do we implement innovative and predictive models in regulatory risk assessment?

We offer an online innovative, interactive and diverse program in which there is time for networking and informal chats.

If you are a PhD candidate, Bachelor/Master student or (young) professional and would like to contribute to this meeting, you can submit an abstract. We offer students and PhD candidates the opportunity to present your work via a poster or an oral presentation. The best poster and oral presentations will be awarded. Moreover, participation in one of the workshops will improve your skills in abstract writing, presenting or PROAST dose-response modelling!

Abstract submission and registration are now open via the website: <https://toxicologie.nl/meeting2021/>

Extended deadline abstract submission: 14th of April, 2021

We all look forward to seeing you at the online meeting!
